

CollisionWeek

Wed, 04 Feb 2009

CREW Webcast to Spotlight Success in a Challenging Economy

Organizers of the Collision Repair Executive Webcast (CREW) announced that their upcoming Web presentation will host a panel of leading media experts who will be presenting information on "Positioning Your Business to Succeed in a Challenging Economic Environment."

The February 12 presentation will focus on latest industry statistics, including trends, issues and opportunities related to the collision repair industry and the economy. The panel of guests includes: Jason Stahl, Editor, Body Shop Business; Tim Sramcik, Editor-in-Chief, Automotive Body Repair News; and Russell Thrall III, Founder and Publisher of CollisionWeek.

CREW is hosted by Fix Auto and is designed to deliver high-level, current subject and expert matter and information about trends and dynamics within the industry.

The delivery format includes a Web-based visual presentation of the content, a simultaneous audio conference call and a capability for the participants to question the presenters.

Matthew Ohrnstein, Symphony Advisors and Vincent Romans, The Romans Group, produce and present the bi-monthly, one-hour Webcast meeting.

There is no cost to participate in CREW but prior registration is required. If you are interested in joining a the CREW Webcast please call the CREW help desk at (714) 279-2023 or register online at <http://www.crewwebcast.com>

The presentation is scheduled to begin at 11am PST on Thursday, February 12.